Boys Build Ferris Wheel to Aid Crippled Children

All kids love a circus and especially when it's in their backyard. This four-story home made ferris wheel was built by Bobby Ferrier, 15, 10724-106 avenue, and Harvey Sundahl, 13, 10600-109 street. Business is booming and all pennies go to aid crippled children. Boys built the thrill wheel in two days of hard work.

DUTY WINS OVER BEAUTY

CHATHAM, Kent, England, Aug. 12.—(CP)—Chatham town council wants no part of beauty contests. It declined an invitation to lend official support to a "Miss Kent" competition.

"We consider that beauty parades are out of keeping with the dignity of a council," said the town fathers. "We have far more important work to do."

Hypothetical Mountains Move Easily

If Mohammed won't come to the mountain, take the mountain to Mohammed.

That's what one Edmonton woman did.

She had a room to rent. She wanted to rent it to two gentlemen.

The gentlemen didn't come looking for her room. So she advertised in The Bulletin.

Now two gentlemen are ensconced in the room, and everybody's happy.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Yugoslavia has taken over shipyards formerly controlled by joint Soviet-Yugoslav company, a Tanjug broadcast last night disclosed.

Stewardess Is Heroine In U.S. Airline Crash

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 12.—(AP)—A plucky stewardess was heroine of a Northeast Airlines crash from which 27 persons escaped safely last night.

Pretty Patricia Donnellan, 23, a rookie at her job, calmly directed the passengers out a rear door a scant two minutes before the plane was enveloped in flames on Portland Municipal Airport.

PROPELLERS REVERSED

Capt. Frederick Cole, 40, of Montreal, Mass., the pilot, said the propellers of the twin-engine Conquest accidentally reversed 15 or 20 degrees above the runway and we started to slip straight down.

"When our landing gear collapsed and the aplane began to fly," the big plane slithered on its belly for several hundred feet in a shower of sparks. Then the right engine caught fire.

Shouting, "Follow me," Miss

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(CP)—John Hladun (alias Jack Logan), former member of the Communist party of Canada, testified today at a deportation hearing that he had been a student at the International Lenin School in Moscow where he studied methods of overthrowing governments by force and violence.

Fire Threat On Increase

Threat of new forest fires hangs over southern Alberta foothills country today, with dry, hot weather creating a potentially dangerous situation.

E. S. Huettis, assistant director of forestry, said the country south and west of Calgary is being closely watched by a good-sized staff.

TINDER DRY GRASS

He said anxiety is being felt about the area west of Macleod and Claresholm. Grass is tinder dry and a prairie fire would be apt to sweep westward into the heavily timbered foothills country.

Chief concern is over possibility of fishermen leaving camp fires unattended.

Crews are still working on ground fires near Whitecourt and north and east of Lac La Biche.

Mr. Huettis said it is likely fire-fighting crews will have to keep at this work right through to the fall.

Nationalist Planes Bomb Shanghai

SHANGHAI, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Shanghai has been subjected to a succession of bombing raids in the last 48 hours. The raids have been carried out by from two to six planes.

Nationalist planes have been hitting at Communist-held Shanghai intermittently since the fall several weeks ago.

Cloudy Days Coming Here

There won't be much sunlight over Edmonton and the rest of Alberta today and tomorrow.

"That little bit of sun [it'll be] cloudy with scattered showers this evening, a little cooler tomorrow. Love tonight and high tomorrow for Edmonton, Red Deer, and Vermilion regions will be 30 and 70."

MAN WANTS RIVER TO COME NEAR DOOR

SEATTLE, Aug. 12.—(UP)—A Seattle mortician asked the King County commission today to help return a river that has been staying away from his door.

Carl Butterworth built a $15,000 home on the banks of the Tolt river. Last November the stream was diverted by a log jam and cut a new channel.

Instead of a peaceful stream for a view, Butterworth now looks at an empty gravel ditch.

Canada Savings Bonds Slated for Fall Sale

OTTAWA, Aug. 12.—(CP)—A new series of Canada Savings Bonds will go on sale this fall, the Finance Department announced today.

They will be sold, like the first three issues, through banks, investment dealers and payroll-savings plans.

The interest rate was not disclosed in the department's statement. It is expected that the fourth series will retain the feature which proved so popular in the first three.

Last year, sales on payroll savings plans totalled $118,000,000 and the bonds were purchased by more than 45 per cent of employees to whom the plan was available.

"Decision to issue a fourth series of Canada Savings Bonds is a direct reflection of the enthusiastic response that has attended the previous three offerings," the department said.

At the same time, the department said that series three savings bonds have been sold in such large numbers that they will be sold from sale at the end of this month. But applications made for series three bonds before Aug. 31 will be honoured for deferred payment will not be affected.

Hot Weather Ripens Grain

WINNIPEG, Aug. 12.—(CP)—Extremely warm weather prevailing over the prairie provinces during the last week has hastened the ripening of grain, weekly crop reports of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National railways said today.

The CNR report said late sown crops are maturing too rapidly as a result of heat and heads are not filling out as they should.

The CPR report said a wide spread has been seen in wheat fields from fields already harvested, varying from 15 to 35 bushels an acre.

Both reports said harvesting is well under way.

Alcoholics Anonymous Necessary For Birds

SYRACUSE, N.Y., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Death and disgrace today visited a family of tame robins at the home of Lawrence Cook.

One baby robin died of acute alcoholism and another was found dead on a lawn yesterday.

Cook, 50, a veterinarian, said he had noticed the birds drinking from a bottle of gin and tonics he had left out for them.

The birds were offspring of a robin couple Mr. Cook took into his home a year ago.

CN Agrees To Hotel Lot Prices

Two - Lot Holdout Stymies City On Property Acquisition

City and CNR have agreed on a price of approximately $100,000 for two Jasper avenue lots on which the Macdonald hotel extension will be built.

But purchase of the lots by the city is stymied by a demand for $40,000 for half of one 30-foot lot and the fact that no price has been set by the owner of the second full 30-ft.

Among occupants of the four half lots involved are British and Foreign Bible Society, Signal Photo Studio, Naisitic Photo Room and Barber Shop, Picard Book, Edmonton Butchers and Packers, and Mandarin Gardens.

Mayor Harry D. Ainlay said today the bright spot in the whole transaction is the Bible House offer to accept an exchange of property and facilities without profit.

Some time ago City Council at an informal meeting set the price on lots four and five for the hotel site, and the CNR agreed. But this is the first announcement regarding the figure.

Arrangements have already been concluded for property flanking the proposed extension, and tenants have received notice they must vacate a month before the CNR plans to start construction.

The city is now awaiting word from CNR on when it plans to start.

Encouraging attitude

"The Bible House is not looking for profit from a move," the mayor said. "They are agreeable to accepting an exchange of property and re-establishment on an equal footing in another location. It's encouraging to see someone taking that attitude."

He said the price asked, $60,000 for the one-half lot where the hotel will be built is about two and a half times the valuation placed on it by both city assessor and by an independent authority.

Previously the city acquired the two corner lots, Jasper and 100 street for a total of $75,000. One lot will be used for widening of 100 street, and the other for the hotel site.

The town is anxious to see some of the city may be forced into expropriation proceedings.

Calgary Auto Camp Scene of Murder

Victim of a brutal Calgary auto camp slaying last night has been identified as 24-year-old Yvonne Levesque, who left Edmonton two weeks ago to get married.

Police throughout Alberta and Saskatchewan began a widespread manhunt today for her alleged killer, Don W. Henderson, of Clive, who is believed fleeing the province in a borrowed car.

Found last night battered and scratched on a tourist coffee shop, Miss Levesque worked in Edmonton during July at the Garneau Coffee Shop.

Registered with the hotel was Mr. and Mrs. Henderson, the dead girl is believed to have left Edmonton late in July to get married.

Had premarital exam

Possibility that her death was a honeymoon slaying was raised today by information that she was given a premarital examination by Dr. Pat C. Rouse, 1000-44 avenue, before she left this city.

Miss Levesque, daughter of a Pincher Creek farmer, J. B. Levesque, was described as a quiet, almost shy girl.

She was discharged from the Garneau Coffee Shop where she worked as waitress, because of frequent absence from work.

On one occasion, she told coffee shop manager Thomas Shymka she went to Calgary for a week because her mother was sick.

The accused killer of the woman, Don Henderson, also left Clive frequently to go to Calgary.

Miss Levesque lived in a rooming house on 86 avenue in Edmonton.

Although King's health has improved, His Majesty was taking any trip for another couple of years. Buckingham Palace official said it "seems safe to assume" that the King will not leave Britain until at least 1951. Statement came following speculation that the royal family might make the trip to Australia postponed last year because of His Majesty's circulatory ailment.

GYPSY ROSE LEE

... Caught cold. Captain Christopher Soames, Winston Churchill's son-in-law, will run for parliament as a Conservative from Bedford. Soames married Mary Churchill in 1947.

Gen. Roy S. Vandenberg said in Washington Russia is America's only possible enemy. He added that in case of war, atomic bombing was first priority, and the joint chiefs of staff are now studying that.

It's finally happened. Strip-teaser Gypsy Rose Lee, who appeared in Edmonton during Exhibition Week, was taken to hospital in Fort William. She caught a cold.

The Atom

Canada's atomic energy commission was passing on its atomic know-how to industry as fast as it could be taken off the secret list. Dr. C. J. Mackenzie, chief of the atomic energy control board and National Research Council president, said industrialists get information, but not even a hint of how to make an atomic bomb.

Far East

Britain's new Commander-in-Chief of Far East land forces, Lt. Gen. Sir John Harding, arrived in Hong Kong from Singapore. He will discuss Hong Kong defence problems with other British military leaders.

Controversial U.S. government "white paper" on China policy may result in a new Far Eastern policy which will halt Communism, and in the long run may lead to economic stability and peace. First off, the government will solicit the views of Lt. Gen.

Power Is Within Everyone's Grasp

Without Power There Can Be No Grasp Or Mastery

The Bulletin continues today publication of a condensation of the widely-acclaimed book, "A Guide to Confident Living," by Dr. Peale, noted Protestant clergyman, has been minister of Marble Collegiate Church in New York since 1922. He has been a pioneer in the use of a pastor by forming a link between religion and psychiatry to gain happiness and success for thousands of people. Dr. Peale's principles for confident living appear in 7 daily chapters. (Copyright 1948, Prentice-Hall Inc.)

By Norman Vincent Peale
CHAPTER 10

Every normal person wants a feeling of power. Not power over other people, for that is a disease and abnormality. But every normal person wants power over circumstances; power over situations; power over fear; power over weakness; power over themselves. And . . . everyone can have that power.

Everyone desires to be efficient; everyone desires to perform with skill. Efficiency is an element in power. Without it there can be no grasp or mastery. There is a great satisfaction in being able to do a thing well. Even a commonplace thing done well gives a glow of satisfaction only to the person who performs it but to all who witness it. This truth was recently brought home to me at luncheon.

The service was by an old-fashioned butler, a master at his art. He had composed, a quality always to be admired. He was not in the least flustered by the average waiter or waitress serves to be these days. He took his job as a butler seriously and with dignity. Lingered after the luncheon.

"I am pleased and satisfied, Beg your pardon, sir, it is an art. I learned it in England, sir, in the old days."

The Answer Is Important

You can be efficient! How? Upon the answer depends to a large degree your success and happiness. And the answer is—seek to become expert in the practice of your religious faith.

There was a time when a reader at this point would say, "This is where we go from common sense to theory." There is an old and false notion, happily disappearing in this country, that anything religious is theoretical—that it just doesn't fit into practical life. But intelligent people nowadays realize that Christianity is not a Sunday-go-to-meeting thing remote from practical living but a scientific, usable technique.

A prominent advertising man said to me, "There will be a definite change of religion in the postwar era."

Why? I asked.

The Crux Of The Matter

One pamphlet told how to take care of the body and how to use food properly; another how to use cosmetic preparations. The course was designed to release the charm and beauty of the feminine personality. This course together with a kit of cosmetic articles had been put to more than a quarter of a million persons. Now a new advertising project had come his way and he was discussing it with me.

The new project was to teach men how to be effective. The client was a clothing house. A series of pamphlets was under preparation, each teaching a man how to use his full self and to completely release his personality.

Formula Releases Forces

A psychiatrist of undisputed standing stated that one of the most powerful forces is released through a formula in Matthew which reads, "All things, whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive." He offered it as his opinion, based on long experience in his profession, that a patient's mind is conditioned in terms of this scriptural verse, then the most amazing changes can and do take place.

"Faith," he said, "possesses a tremendous healing property and power producing . . ."

Lesson From Edison's Life

Finally Edison discovered in the well-known and commonplace golden rule the latex he was seeking. At first he produced 3 per cent of rubber; later 10 per cent and then 15 per cent. This was the experiment upon which he was working just before his death.

The lesson to be drawn from the example of Edison is this: Some people approach spiritual laws with the rational and factual attitude of the scientist and find at first a small percentage of truth that results in a degree of power.

Those who keep on operating the law, investigating and working with it, increase the percentage, and as they do so there is released into their lives mentally, physically and spiritually increasing power and efficiency that gives them a grasp and mastery far beyond other people, especially be-

Power Locked Within You

It is entirely likely that in you is locked up all the power and efficiency you need. Evidence gained in thousands of cases indicates that the sure way of releasing it is to become expert in the faith mechanism described in the New Testament.

Captain Eddie Rickenbacker discovered this principle years ago. He himself told me again and again that in an automobile race he was coming down the home stretch with his throttle wide open. Due to his sensitive feel of the mechanical workings of his automobile, he became aware that ton. The landlord described her as a quiet, respectable girl. Police in Alberta and Saskatchewan were hunting Henderson, for whom a murder warrant had been sworn out, believed to be fleeing the province.

He has relatives in Moose Jaw. Henderson had been living with Miss Levesque in an auto cabin since Aug. 2.

Calgary police said that upon arriving at the cabin last night they found the woman lying face down on the cabin floor. She had been brutally beaten and her body was bruised and scratched.

MAN DISAPPEARS

While detectives were investigating her condition, Henderson slipped out and disappeared.

Search continued today along the wooded banks of the Bow River since the accused murderer borrowed a friend's car last night and disappeared about 1 a.m. police believe he may be fleeing the province.

According to Mrs. George Smith, wife of the camp owner, Henderson had appeared at the camp office yesterday evening and demanded that a doctor be sent for her.

TRIES TO REVIVE GIRL

Following this, she went to the cabin and found Henderson attempting to revive the unconscious woman by artificial respiration.

When Mrs. Smith entered the cabin, Henderson shouted "never mind asking questions. Just get a doctor quickly."

When police arrived they found Henderson in the cabin and three bottles of cheap rye on the table. Inhabitants of the camp said they had heard no sounds of a struggle or outcry.

DIES IN AMBULANCE

Miss Levesque died in ambulance en route to Calgary hospital about 9 p.m. last night.

Henderson was last seen in Clive about a week ago. He and a partner, Ken Evans, had been cutting brush in the Clive area for the past two or three years.

Both were described by Clive residents as "very quiet" and hard to get acquainted with.

Henderson is reported never to have gone out with women, even to dances, and "never had more than two or three glasses of beer," according to former owner of the Clive hotel, John Tweek, who now lives at 1216 86 street.

WAR VETERANS

Both Evans and Henderson were veterans, and were usually seen together.

Evans is now believed to be in the United States.

Churchill To Be Opposed By Red

LONDON, Aug. 12.—(Reuters)—The Communists are to fight Winston Churchill in his constituency at the general election next year.

The party's national executive committee decided to put up a candidate in Churchill's constituency—Woodford, Essex—where a Labour party candidate has already been named.

Capt. Hickenbacker explains we are better acquainted with the power of the human mind over conditions, circumstances, material things. Indomitable mastery and control over adversity or opposition is exercised by the mind when the driving energy of faith is released.

Caravan Plans Pre-Trek Parade

Monday Morning Procession To Travel City Streets

A parade through city streets Monday morning will herald the start of the Yellowhead Route caravan.

Immediately following the parade, the caravan will move out of the city, in an effort to promote the advantages of the Yellowhead route for the proposed Trans-Canada highway.

Gaily bedecked automobiles, and sound cars will be featured in the parade, which starts at 9:30 a.m. from 101 street and Kingsway.

It then moves south on 101st to Jasper Avenue and then east down Jasper to 90 St., and west on 101st Avenue to 97 street, then south to Jasper and west to the city limits.

Escorting the parade will be a motorcycle squad of city police. In the official party will be Mayor Harry Ainlay and J. MacPherson, vice-president of the Trans-Canada Highway System Association.

At Edson and Jasper the caravan will be joined by other official parties.

Reception has been planned for the party at Jasper where they will be feasted at a barbecue at Lake Annette.

Points to be visited by the caravan are Jasper, Blue River, Kamloops and Vancouver.

Street Crash Injures Man

Civil Kent, 1164-58 street, was severely injured last night when he was struck by a taxi at 100 street and 103 avenue.

He was taken to the General Hospital at 6:25 p.m. where he was reported suffering from shock and bruises to his left leg.

Stanley Chorney, 11946-81 street, driver of the taxi, told police he was travelling west on 100 avenue. He stopped half-way through the intersection to let a south-bound car pass.

He saw Kent 15 feet in front of him and was unable to avoid striking the pedestrian.

Luxury Items Attract Theft

Theft of a 23 jewel watch, complete golfing equipment and a $30 camera was reported to police yesterday.

D. A. Taylor, Assiniboia Residence, reported a 23 jewel man's watch stolen from the pocket of his coat sometime earlier in the week.

A golfing bag, two drivers and five irons owned by Clarence Hunt, 10800-84 avenue, were stolen from a locker recently.

Donald Bannerman, 10728-81 avenue, reported the theft of a $30 camera and other articles from his truck parked at east side of City Centre Service station last night.

Rural mail carriers travel more than 1,400,000 miles a day in the performance of their official duties.

STOLEN CLUB JUST BORROWED

The tumult and the shouting has died away at the police station.

The Chief's putter has been returned.

Yesterday the Bulletin reported one of the most daring crimes in Edmonton history—stealing police chief Reg Jennings's pet golf putter.

But it all turned out happily—just a matter of friend borrowing. Yesterday a red-faced youth returned the rare-type club to the worried chief constable.

Now everybody's happy.

U of A Names 10 Lecturers

Ten appointments to fill staff vacancies were announced today by the Board of Governors of the University of Alberta.

They are: Arthur R. Lamb, assistant professor of bacteriology; Dr. Rolf Staflin, assistant professor of Russian; Arthur R. Crisp, lecturer in music; Esther Nelson, extension lecturer in drama; Darroch D. Campbell, extension lecturer; John A. Forbes, lecturer; W. K. Shanklin and Albert Shaw, lecturers in mathematics; Elaine A. Fildes, instructor in physical education; and Jean A. Smeltzer, instructor in bacteriology.

Assistant professor of French in English in the Calgary branch, Victor Graham, has received a year's leave of absence to continue graduate studies.

Two part-time replacements for this department have been appointed: Mrs. Mary Graham, seasonal instructor in French and L. G. Galsoun, instructor in English.

Other seasonal instructors named were: Isabel V. Burasah, botany; W. G. Goward, chemistry; Mrs. Helen B. Laverack, nursing; and Dr. D. C. Ritchie, obstetrics and gynecology.

Dr. D. M. Macdonald will be demonstrator in anatomy.

Retiring because of ill health is Genevieve Twomey, assistant professor of education.

Dr. J. E. Carmichael, faculty of medicine, will also retire.

Three other resignations reported to the board were: Dr. Winifred Hughes, associate of zoology; Dr. M. Cantor, associate in biochemistry; and B. Stuart, drama lecturer.

Many Enter Posy Contest

More than 750 enthusiastic gardeners have entered the Edmonton Horticultural Society's 61st annual flower show.

Scheduled to start Tuesday and continue through Wednesday, the show will be opened by Hon. Dr. J. L. Robinson, minister of industry and labour.

Society officials said that acting mayor, Ald. J. M. Douglas will make presentation of awards to winners.

An oak tree may pass off more than 200 times its own weight in water from June to October.

Clear Sailing Indicated For Government Building

Work on the new Provincial Government Administration building on 98-avenue will commence about Sept. 1, it was announced today.

Government building department officials said two homes located at 98 avenue between 108 and 109 streets have been sold to Addy Construction company of Edmonton for $2,500.

Although it was not stated that the construction company will do with the large two-story houses, it is thought they will be torn down for salvage of materials as it is not believed feasible to move the structures.

As soon as the houses have been removed, work of excavation for the new $1,500,000 administration building will begin, officials said.

PARKING LOT DONE
Three bids were offered for purchase of the old homes on the site, the lowest being around $600.

Administration building is expected to be completed some time in 1950.

Steel has been ordered with a guarantee of delivery by the time excavation for the basement has been completed.

In the meantime a parking lot for the building has been completed on a 100 by 150 feet site on the southeast corner of 109 street and 98 avenue.

It is believed parking space will be necessary to petition the city to not be sufficient, and it may be clear 98 avenue between 108 and 109 streets during the construction period, as considerable amounts of machinery will be parked in the area.

EARLY START
It was also announced today that tenders for building new provincial agricultural school at Fairview will close Sept. 16.

This school, having accommodation for 200 students, will be started this year and completed in 1950.

Tenders for the drill hall in connection with the school close today.

Estimated cost of the school and hall is $750,000. Separate tenders are called for the drill hall because only three companies in Alberta are equipped to do the type of work required.

Airline By-Pass Here
Blamed on U.S. Lobby

Delay continues in an Air Transport Board decision to grant Northwest Airlines a permit to make Edmonton a passenger stop on its New York to Manila route.

Col. W. F. W. Hancocq NWA special representative today reported on his return from conferences with company officials at St. Paul, Minn., that no communication from the board had yet been received.

Application has been before the board for several months, he said.

SET UP IN 1947
The far-East route was established through Edmonton two years ago when the company planned to make Edmonton a passenger stop.

Civil Aviation Board of the United States and Air Transport Board of Canada have not yet thrashed out full agreement on aspects of the international air route.

Edmonton, meanwhile, is a refuelling and overhauling station on NWA's Asia route through Alaska and Aleutians.

Although a bilateral air agreement was signed last January between Canada and United States it appears the deal is still short of house ratification by both countries.

Edmonton air officials who have been keenly watching the situation said they believe the delay in granting of passenger permit is coming from lobby of U.S. air route businessmen.

NO EXPLANATION
With highly profitable established air services from New York to other populous U.S. and Canadian centres a new service entering the field naturally would reduce traffic.

Time Factor Ignored

Mayor Harry D. Ainlay's reply to The Bulletin's demand that extra crews be put on the Groat Ravine bridge job, so that its completion may be speeded, totally ignores the vital time factor in construction work of this kind.

The mayor says that extra shifts would involve setting up lights for night work and subjecting residents to nocturnal noise.

What is the difficulty about lights for night work?

Many of the biggest construction jobs in the country have been done under artificial light.

And surely adjacent residents would sooner put up with a little night noise for a short period than have the job drag out with the street closed for a long period.

The mayor says that a 24-hour shift would substantially increase the cost of the project.

That is undoubtedly true. But the extra cost is only a fraction of the loss entailed in the prolonged closing of an important arterial highway leading to Jasper and Edson.

The time factor, that is to say, the high cost of makeshifts and detours and transit expedients and inconvenience to the city's traffic, is completely forgotten by the mayor who seems to think that the Bulletin's criticism is idly and frivolously contentious and is based on some mysterious feud which actually exists only in civic imaginations and civic consciences.

It is a construction axiom in big cities that the cheapest way to do a job of this nature is to do it quickly.

And failure to take that time factor into account merely reveals a small town mentality incapable of understanding time in terms of dollars and cents.

There are three bridge crews in the city at present.

As many as possible of them should be put to work on the Groat Ravine and get the job over and done with.

The cost to be reckoned is not the extra cost to the city through extra crews, but the extra cost to the public through dragging out the work.

A Legitimate Theatre Needed Too

Announcement that another downtown picture theatre is planned in Edmonton, which brings the number of projected new movie houses to four, is good news.

Edmonton is expanding so rapidly that any increased facility for wholesome amusement is valuable, not only to the resident population but to our capacity for entertaining visitors.

But it is rather a pity that the laudable enterprise of the motion picture theatre companies could not be turned to providing, also, an adequate legitimate theatre for this city.

Hundreds of fine road shows are being produced in the East and in the United States.

Edmonton is denied the privilege of seeing these productions because there is no place here where they may be staged.

Even the local dramatic organizations are seriously handicapped by the same lack.

Now at the first sight it may appear that the motion picture people would be the last to promote the erection of a legitimate theatre because legitimate productions compete with their own industry. Actually that is not the case. Anything that keeps alive the entertainment-mindedness of the public is good business for motion pictures.

In short, a good flesh play shown in Edmonton would only increase the avidity of Edmonton people for good pictures.

Every worthwhile theatrical production, filmed or live, boosts the tendency towards theatre-going.

Moreover, motion picture people are probably the only group who could afford to erect a legitimate theatre here because, with the long gaps between legitimate productions, only they could fill in those gaps with selected pictures.

Marking the Stability of Homes

There is something very satisfying in those stories in the weekly newspapers about couples being honored on their wedding anniversaries.

It seems always to be a matter of community pride when a popular couple reach the silver or golden jubilee span of life together.

Everybody shares their happiness.

The parties, often in the community hall, always come to the honored couple as a surprise. At least that is what it says in the paper.

Old friends gather, friends of many nationalities and interests, and it is a tribute to the neighborliness and spirit of goodwill in the community.

But more important, those who arrange these parties are unconsciously paying tribute to the stability of Canadian life which has its basis in the family.

Good Audiences, Good Manners

Edmonton's "Pop" concerts have met with spectacular success. The series nearly concluded has demonstrated that the people of this city want good music, are willing to pay for it, and appreciate it when they get it.

But one thing is disappointing. Some people, even if they are music lovers, have bad manners. Fortunately, they are a minority by a very wide margin, but as is often the case, a minority of poorly behaved people can spoil something for a majority.

For example, the sales pavilion, in which concerts were held, is poorly ventilated and was not intended for use not only by non-smokers, but making the air almost unbearable for the last half of the concert.

Many people chattered through orchestral selections. True, these concerts are supposed to be informal, but there is a difference between informality and bad manners. Concerts are designed for listening to music.

But worst manifestation of selfishness was that displayed by those who tried to beat "God Save the King" out the door. They scuffled on concrete stairways during encore numbers. Worst of all, they nearly blocked the entrance to the auditorium and guest artists were using to return to the platform for well-deserved applause. Several didn't even have the grace to step aside.

These things, happily, concern only the minority. But Edmonton has just been given something very nice which thousands enjoy. Let us not spoil it through our own selfish thoughtlessness.

ON THE RECORD

Integrated Despotism Vs. Disintegrated Democracy

The problem of western civilization is how to secure in freedom the unity essential to a defense against the monolithic unity that presses upon it from the East.

Freedom and unity, that is, the concept associated with nationalism and complete sovereignty, does not make for unity.

Far from achieving a greater unity, the nations of the West, the last two years, have arranged themselves to have further disintegrated Europe.

Before World War I, continental Europe was of Russia consisted of three great states—France, Germany and Austria.

After the First World War, Austria-Hungary was entirely disintegrated. Germany partly so, and five additional sovereign states emerged, these being states largely carved out of the disintegration of the Austro-Hungarian complex.

Before World War I, Russia's only outlet in Europe was Serbia, a dispute over which occasioned that war.

After World War II, all the states carved out of Austro-Hungarian disintegration fell into the Soviet orbit, with the single exception of tiny Austria, advancing the Russian outputs to the Danube and the Elbe, and leaving a rump Europe.

Single Unity

The vast Russian realm has total integration—one political form, one economy, one defense system.

Every government but one (Italy's) is a disciplined Soviet satrap every Red Army is an integral part of the Red Army system, and this integrated system extends from Central Europe to the Pacific, and now embraces the vast populations of China—the greatest power complex in history.

It is imposed and maintained by force. But it is well for modern men to remember that despotism has a longer history than freedom.

Against this formidable unity, rump Europe, the British Commonwealth, and America have built no unified structure.

Germany divided, hangs in limbo with a definite battle line drawn through it.

The Soviet Union, holding the eastern part, has, however, a policy—namely, to add half Germany, and eventually all, to the Soviet power bloc.

Rump Europe has no program for Germany, immediate or eventual.

The addition of Germany to Western Union, on equal terms, is opposed by France. The western prospect offered Germany is to be a perpetual woman's land.

There is no unified western economy.

Within Rump Europe there is a division between a Socialist Northern Europe (British and Scandinavian) and a more or less free economy Southern Europe (Benelux, France and Italy).

Political federation is far distant. Even the most "kitchen" statesmen foresee no military organization, but regional groupings. The Socialist International

Letters to the Editor

Edmonton 40 Years Ago

Editor, Bulletin—A few days ago a friend lent me a copy of your issue of June 16th, and on reading it through the idea came to me to send you a few lines about your city as it was when I worked there some 40 years ago.

Edmonton in those days, was very much of a frontier town just emerging to real greatness.

The city proper may be said to have been bounded by the C.P. railway on the north (then stretching to 60 miles west (Edmonton) on its way to the Pacific coast, the river on the south, 11th avenue to the west and Kinsella and Fraser avenues to the east.

Between these limits were shacks, scattered irregularly about, except in the northeast, where Swiss newly built packing plant lay in a small settlement of workers' houses and two hotels, the Transcona and Strathcona.

On the parts of the western side, the later establishment was a large sign to the effect that no Scotchmen were allowed to enter.

The population was very mixed. Indians with their furland sleighs, squaws with their beaded aprons, and a few "chaps" who were always empty either on their hips, traders, trappers, businessmen, "bums" and well dressed ladies, women of another class all together, red-coated Mounties—of every sort from every country on the earth, were here.

A "theatre" in which were presented shows that could never have passed the censor, either one or two "moving picture" houses which showed very surprising films to pagans, cowboys, "surprising" is hardly the word, but let it pass. Maurice Costello was the star, and he was almost all these silent films. One need not have looked for a game of draw or stud poker—or a drink of "booze" at the time.

Edmonton in 1909—even the "Scotch" was $1 a quart bottle.

The nearest railway station depot was Strathcona, on the south side of the river. The present bridge was just being built together with the parliament building. It was not long before a thousand buxys in one night in Edmonton in 1909—even the "Scotch" was $1 a quart bottle.

Yale ran it close for popularity. Peter Gunn, one of the real idlers, had many a chat with me in the Cecil, while the venerable Father Lacombe, O.M.I. could very rarely be seen on a visit from his place at Midnapore. The "Macdonald" and the Royal Alex hospital were yet to be built. While there was a Hudson's Bay store, there was no Timothy Eaton's nearer than Winnipeg, a thousand miles to the southeast.

I have run on long enough—although I could almost fill 2 pages of your paper with stories of what went on in Edmonton in those far-off days—so, wishing you, your readers and your city at the best, I am,

Yours truly, W. WEST, 15 Holt St., Wrexham, Wales.

Editor, Bulletin—The final figure of the general election, held on 27th June, shows a serious condition, which calls for earnest consideration.

The figures show that for one-half of the total votes cast, the Liberal Party secured almost three-fourths of the seats in the House of Commons.

It is highly unfair to the Progressive Conservatives when compared with the Liberals; it is unfair to the Liberal and the Prog. Cons. parties, if for no other reason, this calls for correction.

Again, a most valuable feature of the British Parliamentary system is "His Majesty's Loyal Opposition." This most valuable part of the system is being lost.

He is quite right. We do not complain. Not even when our children were sent from danger zones, neither do you hear the people complain of the food.

I, too, am proud of my country. I also am proud to be in Canada. I should like to meet a true Canadian. Most people I have met are descended from Scotch, English, Polish, etc.

We came out here prepared to rough it and above all like it. I have met people who grumble and grumble here. Why judge us all alike.

From Today's News

By JAMES D. WHITE

What is there left in China, by way of unrequited arms and leaders, to combat Communism?

British and American aid is reported to be looking into this question as they form a new policy toward China. The picture is roughly like this:

The refugee national government of China, rejected as puppet by the United States, is fragmenting up as predicted. Its fragments may keep going for some time.

A real source of central authority, Chiang Kai-Shek, is repairing to Formosa.

Chinese army units in the province appear to be left more or less on their own. Gen. Chang Pao-chung, defence commander, is pulling his troops off into his native province of Kwangsi.

Yunnan, off the Kwangtung coast, might supply resistance in these two provinces, but has its own growing guerrilla trouble.

The administrative shell of the Canton government, under Premier Yen Hui-shan, is headed for the Kwangtung province. The folks there do not welcome its return.

City Zoning Study An Immediate Need

The complaints being made by Edmonton residents over proposals to change zones, is only natural. No one wants to see his district altered to a business or industrial area.

Yet the fact remains the city is growing and will continue to grow so long as it does there will be more demands for industrial areas.

There is one compensation: Industrial property usually commands a good price and thus it is usually possible for a home owner to sell and build elsewhere.

But the serious difficulty is in not knowing what district is going to be changed next.

After all, when a resident does plan to build, he would prefer to establish his home in an area that will be retained as a residential area for a long time to come.

This is just another reason why the whole question of city zones should be studied without delay, not only with a view to immediate needs but with an eye to our future.

Previous Policy

One difficulty arising out of previous policy has been that structures permitted in better zones are always permitted in poorer zones. But actually this is just as serious as it is to permit a structure suitable for a heavy industrial zone to be built in a higher or residential zone.

For example, many residential areas were set up with small business zones. It was required that when the district was built up, it had no place for the need of other areas and businesses and other areas had to be taken.

That in turn worked a hardship upon those people who had bought with a view to keeping away from such business districts.

It is time Edmonton made a complete future plan even if it is on the optimistic side.

Then, having adopted it, to stay with it so that householders and business people alike would be able to make their plans for this long city.

Shopping

Thus instead of reserving a few lots here and there, it is necessary to reserve a good sized shopping district for each district.

After reserving it, it will also be necessary to change regulations so that housing can be kept out, leaving a place for the shopping district to expand during future years.

Shopping districts, parks, sports centres, industrial areas—these all will be needed to an increasing degree. They will all be needed even if business starts off a bit. If the boom continues they are getting to be needed very soon.

In setting up a town planning commission, there is a tremendous amount of work to be done. Before conditions become more confused, then after the commission is established it will also become necessary to plan the through highways to carry the traffic between these buildings make it impossible to carry out any arterial highway policy.

Finally, one must realize that once there is a good plan the authorities will stand by it.

If those plans are to be changed every few months, too many people buy and build, depending on such plans. Too many plans have already been wrecked because the authorities changed one part which in turn wrecked the rest of it, leaving nothing but confusion.

age facilities, because the geographical situation in Edmonton is such that tracks cannot be provided to every area.

It must be realized that community business sections are going to be the next big development. They have already started but there will be many more of them. Some will become larger than they are now. That is the experience of every large city—and Edmonton is bound to develop similarly.

Bright Broadway Play Becomes Film Success

One of Broadway's brightest gems will be on the screen today when "John Loves Mary" starts at the Capitol theatre.

The new comedy sensation was adapted for the screen by Warner Bros. after a successful run on Broadway.

Sharing honors in the romantic farce is Ronald Reagan, Jack Carson, Edward Arnold and introduces Patricia Neal.

The film's a story of an ex-war hero who has an English war-bride who has married just to be could bring her back to the U.S. for his buddies.

Complications arise from this situation because he can't tell his girl and her parents make for some real hilarious comedy.

Drama Theatres Urged for Cities

Dominion Drama Festival Heard By Arts Commission

OTTAWA, Aug. 12.—(CP)—The Dominion Drama Festival, Canada's stage show window, today urged construction of a string of municipal theatres across the country to speed development of a national theatre movement.

Packing its theatre views and philosophies in seven drama-expanding recommendations, the national stage organization presented a brief to the Royal Commission on arts and science development. It said lack of adequate buildings had "a retarding and adverse effect on the development of theatre in Canada."

INSTANT FEELING

The festival, represented before the commission by its president, D. Park Jamieson of Toronto, and its honorary director, Dr. H. Alan Skinner of London, Ont., said a general lack of municipal theatres—especially outside such centres as Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto—has caused conditions to react sharply "against any progress or feeling of security in the world of theatre in Canada today."

COSTS SHARED

The string of municipal theatres—or even "good auditoriums"—where plays could be staged—should be planned on a national level with federal, provincial and municipal governments, as well as the people in the communities, sharing initial costs.

Linked with the new theatre construction, the festival recommended provision for establishment of permanent companies of Canadian players to travel across the country and "present the best available plays in all centres where adequate facilities for presentation are available."

The festival also recommended that it should be recognized for its contribution to the cultural life of Canada and that sufficient financial support be made available to it to carry on its work.

NATIONAL AWARDS

It urged that some provision be made to encourage Canadian playwrights through national awards and by assuring them that their works will be performed.

It recommended scholarships in the theatre arts "to assist outstanding young men and women who are desirous of following the theatre as a career."

Finally, the festival urged that a supervisory board or commission, separate and apart from government, should be established in the development of a national Canadian drama and the theatre in Canada.

Bell Aircraft Defies Strike

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., Aug. 12.—(UP)—Bell Aircraft Corp. today planned court action against "every international leader, officer and member of the CIO United Auto Workers accused of trying to prevent a return of workers to its strikebound plant."

But Local 501, UAW-CIO went ahead with plans to employ stronger forces in the same tactics used at the plant gates yesterday.

Following a strategy meeting of the local's strike committee last night, it was indicated that "passive" resistance to attempts to get production workers back into the plant would continue.

PLANT STAYS OPEN

Meanwhile, company president Lawrence D. Bell said the plant, reopened for production yesterday for the first time since the UAW strike, was expected to begin two months ago, "would continue to remain open."

UAW picketing which kept all but a company-claiming figure of 208 of 3,000 workers out of the plant yesterday was termed "flagrant disrespect and disregard of the judges and courts of this country" by Ray Whitman, Bell's first vice president.

U. S. Fearful Britain Will Lead in Jets

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12. — (UPI) — American aviation experts feared today that the United States will lose its leadership in the field of jet-powered aircraft.

Delos W. Rentsel, civil aeronautics administrator, revealed this position in testimony made public by chairman Edwin C. Johnson, D. Colo., of the senate commerce committee.

NEW CHALLENGE

Rentsel said "the utilization of American-built craft has been challenged by the successful maiden flight of the British built De Havilland Comet—the world's first jet-powered airliner."

The Havilland company spokesmen announced yesterday in London that the four-jet 36-passenger airliner travelled almost seven miles above the earth two days ago. The test pilot said he flew the craft more than 400 miles per hour at 30,000 feet and still had power to spare.

Britons hope the plane will become the first jet passenger airliner to fly the Atlantic.

Rentsel said he thought this craft would begin carrying passengers in 1952.

"When the Comet is put into regular operation—probably in 1952—he said, 'it is believed that flight schedules will be cut approximately in half'."

WILL BE FASTEST

He said that unless other nations develop aircraft to compete with it in the meantime, "The De Havilland Comet would be the world's fastest air transport."

Rentsel also said that the British are also leading the world in use of combination turbo-propeller powered aircraft.

At present, he said, No U.S. aircraft manufacturer is engaged in actual construction of a jet or turbo-prop transport or large flying boat. But, he said, several American firms are studying the problem.

Teachers Name New President

OTTAWA, Aug. 12. — (CP) — Dr. Bernice MacNaughton of Montreal, N.B., yesterday was elected president of the Canadian Teachers Federation at the CTF convention in session here.

Dr. MacNaughton is dean of women at the Montreal high school and a prominent member of the senate at the University of New Brunswick.

She succeeds C. J. Oates of Vancouver.

E. T. Wiggins of Didsbury, Alta., was elected vice-president at the final general session of the CTF conference.

MYSTERIOUS CAUSE

Kids With Green Hair Appear at Swim Pool

LONDON, Ont. Aug. 12. — (CP) — Astonished civic officials today ordered the East Side Silverwood Park swimming pool closed after receiving reports the hair of three children suddenly turned green while in the water.

Water samples were hurried to the institute of public health for analysis but a report is not expected for a couple of days.

In the meantime, recreational director Bill Farguherson ordered the pool drained and cleaned. He said he expected it would be reopened tomorrow.

All of the affected children are blonds, and one suggestion was that the water might not be at fault—it might be the hair.

Confident of methods.

Confidence Led Gulf To Alta. Oil Discovery

By Jack DeLong
Bulletin Staff Reporter

Gulf Oil Corp. of America joined the great Alberta oil search in 1942 because vice-president K. C. Heald of Pittsburgh had supreme confidence Gulf exploration methods

One-time star halfback on Colorado College football team and former assistant professor of geology at Yale University, Heald is now vice-president in charge of domestic production operation for Gulf.

He visited Edmonton with a group of company officials Thursday.

Mr. Heald explained his advice to other company officials in this way: "We make it a business to learn all that is known and published about oil possibilities in all parts of the world. The Turner Valley field had long been known to us as was the failure to find new fields in Alberta."

"Evidence there was oil to be found in Alberta was conclusive. The only question was man's ability to find it. I had supreme confidence in methods developed by the Gulf."

The Turnerwood Park bathhouse has been plagued by mysterious cases of children with green hair this season, and officials conjectured that someone may have thrown some powder or solution into a corner of the pool which could affect blonde hair.

Mr. Farguherson said, however, that his examination of the pool showed no sign of an "oil slick" or other foreign substance. City health officials were non-committal. They said they had even given what might be the cause of the green hair until chemical analysis was made of the water.

Names of the affected children were not learned.

Air Cadets Return From U.S. Tour

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 12. — (AP) — Twenty-six Canadian air cadets visiting air bases in the south-western United States, arrived yesterday at Denver air base here.

They remained here overnight and will take off tomorrow for Edmonton, travelling back to Canada in two DC-3 transports.

U.S. and Canada Agree on Defence

U.S. Defence Secretary Meets Top Canada Brass

OTTAWA, Aug. 12. — (AP) — Louis Johnson, United States defence secretary, paid his first visit to Ottawa yesterday and declared there is no disagreement between the two countries on any aspect of defence co-operation.

He said after his 10-hour visit he had "never spent a more worthwhile day in my life nor felt myself more among understanding people. We are brothers in the cause of peace."

He conferred with Prime Minister St. Laurent, Defence Minister Cline, Trade Minister Howe and Canadian defence chiefs. They met for 90 minutes.

At a press conference later, he said "we discussed the whole field of defence... in a most pleasant and co-operative way."

Mr. Johnson returned to Washington last night after attending a government dinner with the Prime Minister, cabinet members and government, church and diplomatic officials.

He also told the press conference:

1. He had no fears about Alaskan defence "thanks to the understanding we have in the western hemisphere."

2. He approved a plan to exchange U.S. and Canadian military equipment without straining Canada's reserves of U.S. dollars.

3. He did not wish to discuss the possibility of a unified U.S.-Canadian command because it would be "putting the cart before the horse" in developments leading to formation of an Atlantic Pact organization.

Also attending the meeting were C. M. Drury, deputy defence minister, the chief of staff, Sidney Pierce, industrial mobilization chief, Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, Canadian chairman of the joint Defence Board, and Maj. Gen. Robert Walsh of the U.S. Air Force, a member of the Joint Defence Board.

TASS REPORTER At the press conference, Mr. Johnson was told there was a representative of Tass, the Russian news agency, present and, when asked if the U.S. could handle enemy raids on Alaska, he said both Tass and Moscow would like an answer on that.

Then he said: "We've no fears about the Alaskan picture thanks to the understanding we have in the western hemisphere."

An aide told reporters that Canada and the U.S. had reached agreement on principle on exchange of military data between the two countries. Mr. Johnson said he wants an exchange of second-year students between the three U.S. military academies on cadets "may come to understand one another better."

Crough Wins Big Stick As S.S. Wins Junior Title

Dauthuille, Mills Fight In Montreal?

MONTREAL, Aug. 12.—(UPI)—Promoter Raoul Godbout announced yesterday negotiations were underway to match world light-heavyweight champion Freddie Mills of Great Britain against Laurent Dauthuille, French midweight, in an outdoor bout in Montreal Aug. 31.

Godbout said he had been advised by Max Waxman in New York, Dauthuille's co-manager, that he was willing to post a $25,000 guarantee with Nat Fleischer of Ring Magazine for Mills and his manager, Ted Broadbent.

Waxman and Broadbent will continue in New York regarding the proposed bout between Mills and the fourth ranking midweight in the world.

Mills and Broadbent arrived in America two days ago looking for matches for the Britisher, who had the crown from Gus Lesnevich in July, 1948, and a bout with Dauthuille, who has scored five straight victories since establishing himself in Montreal, would be a natural.

Dauthuille defeated Canadian welterweight champion Johnny Greco in a fifth round knockout last week. Last February he won a unanimous decision over Jake LaMotta of New York in a Montreal ring. LaMotta since acceded to the world middleweight title by defeating Marcel Cerdan.

It started at Ottawa when Canadian Teachers' Federation said that this shifting around was done "with complete concurrence of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association." Alberta and British Columbia spokesmen said the practice just about destroyed high school hockey in their provinces.

AND STILL MORE

Further than that, the federation passed a resolution deploring the present regulations of amateur and pro hockey which "permit the placing of names of school boys on negotiation lists of junior hockey teams while still playing mid-level hockey." They said this was done without consulting the boys or their parents.

"This subject is an old one and has developed into a year-in-and-year-out clash between educational and hockey officials. To be exact it's eight months old."

Clarence Campbell, President of the National Hockey League, and George Duddy of Montreal, Ontario, secretary-manager of the CAHA, again Thursday asked educationists authorities to produce facts and figures to support their charges.

"We have been trying to get reliable information for some time but so far we have not received any response," Campbell said at Montreal. He added that the decline in high school hockey has been going on for 20 years or so, mainly due to schools lacking the proper facilities for the youths."

LOT OF NONSENSE

Duddy was more outspoken. "All this stuff is a lot of nonsense. I still still to receive a complaint about exploitation from players or parents," he said in a telephone interview.

"We are getting tired of these wild and unsubstantiated charges."

Don Crough was a forgotten man in the sixth inning of last night's Junior Baseball league final at Clarke Stadium.

He ended a promising rally for South Side by waving wildly at three straight strikes. But came the seventh, with CNR still nursing a one-run lead, Crough stepped into a fastball and smashed a long home run into centre field, scoring the tying and winning runs as the South Siders wrapped up the series with an 8-5 win.

It was a bitter defeat for CNR. They led 7-1 going into the last of the sixth, and still kept a four-run bulge as South Side came in for a last try in the seventh.

MARTIN FALTERS

Pitcher Howie Martin, working on a five-hitter until the sixth when he weakened for two runs, fell apart in the seventh when Don Wynn started a rally with a single to left field.

Martin gave out to Wally Ursulak with one out and two runs already in. Ursulak was greeted like a long-lost cousin, centrefielder Al Bryant slung a liner into centre for the sixth South Side run.

Then came Crough's big blow. He let the first pitch go by for a ball, picking the next one for his game-winning homer.

Shortstop Ken Nelson singled home two runs in the first frame for CNR and Johnny Kuroi sent another pair across the platter as they jumped to a quick 4-0 lead.

Athletics got one back in the half of the inning, but were held tight until Martin tired in the sixth.

POKES GOES ROUTE

Hal Fors was the distance for the winners, giving up 11 hits. South Side now meet Cadomin in a best-of-three Alberta final. Double-header will be played Sunday in Cadomin, with the next two games going to Clarke Stadium Aug. 21.

Baseball Revokes Bonus Standard

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Major-league baseball executives council yesterday unanimously voted to reject the much discussed bonus rule.

Walter Mulberry, secretary of the council, said the proposal for repeat would be submitted to the 10 major league clubs and 400-odd minor league clubs for mail voting immediately. If a three-quarters vote favors repeal the rule will be removed from the major-minor agreement.

Virginia Anti-Charles

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Virginia Boxing and Wrestling commission voted yesterday not to recognize Ezzard Charles as the world's heavyweight boxing champion.

Charles is recognized as champion by the National Boxing association of which the Virginia commission is a member.

"Regardless of what the NBA does, Virginia refuses to recognize Charles," Joe Bauers, secretary of the VBM, declared in announcing the vote.

Virginia thus became the second state to declare the heavyweight championship vacant. New York State, where Charles successfully defended his NBA title Wednesday night against Gus Lesnevich, does not recognize him as a champion.

Bauers said yesterday that the Charles-Joe Walcott fight, in which Charles gained the NBA title, was "a disgrace to boxing."

And he added, "that fiasco in New York fooled no one except the people who paid to see it."

Tam Choices Fade Not So Heafner

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—(AP)—As favorites faltered, hefty Clayton Heafner yesterday banged a six-under-par 66 for a one-stroke lead in the first 18-hole round of Tam O' Shanter's $35,200 carnival, the "world" championship of golf.

Heafner, a runner-up in the 1949 United States Open, whipped around Tam's par 36-72 in 30:35, using 33 puts for his one-stroke margin over Henry Ransom and Johnny Palmer, who had 67s.

Day's biggest disappointment was defending champion Lloyd Mangrum's collapse for a whopping 76, four over par. The year's top money-winner, Stamin Sammy Snead, also was something lackluster with an even par 72.

Scent of a $10,000 top prize in the 72-hole scramble, however, generally had the boys crowding close behind Heafner.

Four players were bracketed at 68, two strokes off the pace. In this quartet were Jim Perrier, who fluffed a chance to take the lead when he failed to better par on the black muck hole opening 32, Ed Furgol, veteran from Pontiac, Mich.; Jim Turnesa of the famed golfing family, and Dick Metz.

Another foursome was deadlocked at 69, including United States open champion Gary Midgloff; Chandler Harper, Portsmouth, Va.; Jim Demaret; and Willie Hunter.

In promoter George S. May's "party" sideshows, two veterans, Watly Berg and Babe Zaharias about 74's to share the first-round lead in the women's $1,600 pro meet; Frank Kovack of Waikanae, Ill., paced the open amateurs with 70; and pretty Alice Bauer of Los Angeles topped the women amateurs, with 76.

Packaged Rice Makes City Appearance

By Bea Thrift
Packaged rice will soon appear in city stores for the first time.

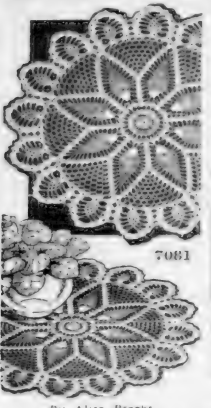

Within the next week red and green open-faced boxes of California rice will be available to housewives.

In the red containers you'll find short grain rice, and in the green the longer, Chinese type.

The latter is fluffier and more expensive, but both kinds serve the same purpose.

Welcome feature of the new packages are mounting spoons, but both types will also be sold in cellophane bags.

More glad tidings for the bill-

Selfish Wife Deserts Cripple for Wealth

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 36. My wife is 34. She is a beautiful woman. My wife is a hopeless cripple from an incurable case of arthritis. My wife had to go out to work and we were an hour's ride from the city. I was a cripple, too. She has left me a wealthy woman. She has left me a wealthy woman. She has left me a wealthy woman.

WHY GROW OLD

Sleep Necessary For Good Health

By Josephine Lowman
Many factors are involved in getting or keeping a lovely, youthful, vibrant face. This is dependent on good health, good nutrition, exercise and adequate sleep. It also depends on faithful skin care and a happy disposition.

We cannot feed the skin from the outside but we can do so through our bloodstream which are dependent on the food we eat for the ingredients with which to build beauty and health. Therefore, our diet is of tremendous importance to us from the standpoint of producing a radiant skin.

Now for the paraffin. Melt new paraffin in a double boiler. It should be about an eighth of an inch thick.

And don't panic if it gets sticky. It is normal. Some take a week or more to become firm after making.

Deep, ruby red glassware could be used for the paraffin. It is a fine table, but only if you have the right table accessories to set it off.

If you have, then take a trip down town and look at the tumbler, sherbet and fruit juice glasses in which, tension, fatigue, worry and all negative characteristics have on your face. These pull contour down and form drooping, pessimistic wrinkles which we would not have otherwise. Habits in facial expression such as grimacing and lifting eyebrows crowning have a great influence on the way our faces look.

Happiness and kindness are the keys to a beautiful face.

Professional affairs can expect new developments.

September 21 to October 21 (Libra)—Geminis due for starting contacts. Some, however, personal contacts, may be made. The important, however, is the important.

November 21 to December 21 (Sagittarius)—This is a time of great activity and energy. You will be very busy and will have many things to do.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 36. My wife is 34. She is a beautiful woman. My wife is a hopeless cripple from an incurable case of arthritis. My wife had to go out to work and we were an hour's ride from the city. I was a cripple, too. She has left me a wealthy woman. She has left me a wealthy woman. She has left me a wealthy woman.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Children Prepared For Visits to Barber

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred
Hair cutting is a tedious chore at best for children hate the enforced inaction: hate or fear to be perched so high in a chair and being wrapped snugly in an apron.

BRIDGE

How to Win—Still Lose Auction Hand

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
I drove out to Glen Island Casino the other night with my friend, Howard Gill. While we were there, I met Joseph Study, who was leading the orchestra. Joe told me that he graduated from New York University as an accountant, but his heart was in music.

In 1930 he started a band. In 1942 he went into the Navy and in 1945 came out a lieutenant commander. While waiting for his discharge papers to come through he worked in the office of the Music Corporation of America one day. Sonny Werblin asked him what he was going to do. Joe said nothing in mind so Werblin told him "I have a band for you Joe. I'll book you into the Hillmore on Monday." From there Joe went on to great success.

Joe's band has been at such points in success that child album sales are expected that he would reach the stratosphere from this strange man who did something that with anyone's blither.

Our leader No. 32 "When the Great South Sea" may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with request to Mr. Joe Study, 60 Front Street W., Toronto 1A, Ont. Please allow a week or ten days for delivery.

Churchill Leads Fight in Assembly

New Europe Council Wins
Less Governmental Control

STRASBOURG, France, Aug. 12—(AP)—Led by Winston Churchill, the new council of Europe's first assembly today fought for greater independence from control by the 12 member governments.

DEBATE CRIPPLED

In one of his first speeches to the 161-member assembly yesterday, Churchill rapped what he called "crippling limitation" on assembly debate imposed by the council's committee of foreign ministers.

The committee of ministers, representing the 12 governments which formed the Council of Europe, is the guiding body of the new European organization. The committee has the power to decide what subjects shall be debated by the consultative assembly.

Churchill and other advocates of some form of European federation hope the assembly may be the forerunner to a genuine parliament of Europe, with legislative powers cutting across national boundaries. At present the council—divided into a consultative assembly and a committee of ministers—has only advisory powers to promote greater European unity.

AUTHORITY WANTED

Inspired by Churchill's oratory, the assembly delegates clearly indicated they will seek greater authority than the ministerial committee intended them to have.

First indication of the revolt came when Churchill and the other delegates objected to what they called a three-day gag rule. Under the rule, nothing can be added to the assembly's agenda without the ministerial committee's approval. Requests for such additions must be made within three days of the assembly's opening.

Churchill called the rule a "crippling limitation which has never been accepted by any assembly worthy of the name free."

"Why should this arbitrary limit of three days be placed down our throats?" Churchill asked. "The assembly must at its onset show that it has the kind of spirit upon which the life of parliaments have been born."

GREAT APPLAUSE

The applause which greeted the British wartime prime minister's challenge showed the bulk of the assembly—representing all different political groups except the extremes of Communism and Fascism—did indeed have this spirit.

Belgium's Paul-Henri Spaak, unanimously elected assembly president yesterday, presided over a 15-member committee to meet with the ministerial committee to seek abolition of the gag rule.

The statement came in the wake of the statement last evening by Defence Secretary Johnson of the U.S. that he personally is very much in favor of such an exchange scheme.

It is understood that Mr. Johnson promised the cabinet every co-operation not only in the industrial field but in others. Canadian officials now are waiting to see what happens.

Canada's proposal that she produce such things as her developing anti-submarine destroyers for the U.S. was made in talks with U.S. Ambassador Laurence Steinhardt, far from a figurehead envoy, he has been taking a prominent role in Canadian-American relations generally.

U.K. Aviatix Still in East

HALIFAX, Aug. 12—(CP)—The RCAF said today that one of its planes, detailed to escort Mrs. Richards, Morrow-Tail, from Goose Bay, Labrador, to Bangor, Me., was investigating a single-engine aircraft heading east towards Greenland.

The air force said one of its Lancasters, ordered to escort the 36-year-old Cambridge, England, housewife back to Bangor, reported it was changing its course to check on the smaller plane.

The Lancaster's crew did not say whether the plane under investigation was that of Mrs. Morrow-Tail which they had under a watchful eye.

Mrs. Morrow-Tail, on a round-the-world flight from Britain since last year, landed at Goose Bay in her single-engine plane last Wednesday after taking off from Old Town, Me.

Canada refused permission for her to make a trans-Atlantic hop because it was against department of transport regulations. The situation became confused and uncertain as to her next move when the operations officer at Dow air force base at Bangor said she will not be cleared at the base unless an emergency develops.

Two major obstacles, payment of gratuities and the superannuation issue, were in the way of settlement of the agreement. On the superannuation issue, the two sides agreed to establish a joint committee which will study existing acts and draft proposals for the consideration of both parties.

Settlement reached regarding gratuity payments was not disclosed.

Fate of Man Hangs On Woman's Whim

BELLEVEILLE, Ill., Aug. 12—(UP)—A woman juror disrupted court proceedings here by exercising her prerogative to change her mind.

After the jury foreman announced a verdict of innocence in a criminal case, the judge polled the jury.

When he came to Mrs. Harry Cather of Freeburg, Ill., she replied: "That's not my verdict."

Back to the jury room went the jurors. A short time later they appeared again. The process was repeated. This time Mrs. Cather agreed with her fellow jury members that the defendant was not guilty of keeping a gaming house in his saloon.

"I couldn't make up my mind the first time," she said.

"That's not my verdict."

JUNE 27 WAS JUST PICNIC, TOO

Liberals of Edmonton West federal constituency will celebrate a year of political triumph tomorrow with a picnic in Victoria park.

Big program of races with fine prizes has been arranged, with action starting at 2:30 in the afternoon.

George Prudham, successful candidate in the June Dominion election, is attending with several other prominent party leaders.

Picnic will be followed by a dance in Victoria pavilion. If it happens to rain, dance will be transferred to Masonic Temple.

CBC Control Urged For Nation Television

OTTAWA, Aug. 12—(CP)—Television—"a tremendous potential force" for good or evil—should be placed under control of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation or similar body responsible to parliament, the Canadian Citizenship Council recommended today.

The council, which collaborates with both provincial and federal governments in developing democratic citizenship in the Dominion, presented its views on television, radio, museum and other cultural outgrowths of Canada in a brief prepared for the Royal Commission on arts and science development.

Democracy in Canada was threatened by two internal forces, the council said. One was the more or less "unorganized authoritarianism of the extreme right" and the other "naïve totalitarianism of the extreme left."

It emphasized the need of letting Canadians know more about themselves and their history "to further the growth and development of mature Canadian citizenship."

In all these things, national bodies, such as the National Gallery, Museum, and proposed National Library, the National Film Board and radio and television should give the opportunity and responsibility to widen their roles "in enriching Canadian life."

The council urged the institution of an extensive program of national scholarships to encourage research in "inter-cultural and inter-group tensions and relations and citizenship."

"The council noted that the CBC, like the National Film Board, has made "an inestimable contribution to a fuller appreciation and understanding by all Canadians of our people, our history, problems, achievements, culture, resources and industry."

The Citizenship Council said there was a definite challenge to all Canadians "to offset and defeat the divisive aspects" of Canadian life. Although "not necessarily based on geography, language and religion," the federal system and numerous and diverse ethnic origins "tend to divide us."

EXASPERATED by holes in their street and inaction by the St. Louis County Highway Department on repeated appeals for repairs, male members of 21 families pooled financial and muscular assets to resurface road in front of their homes. Here they spread part of 45 tons of rock they bought to fill the gap.
